

ARGUMENTS BEGUN.

Judge Sims Opened the 24-Hours Debate in the Powers Trial.

He Made a Powerful Plea for the Defendant—Col. J. K. Hendricks Made the Opening Speech for the Prosecution.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 16.—The courtroom was crowded again Wednesday morning as it was Tuesday night, when Judge J. C. Sims began the 24 hour argument in the Powers trial. Sims made a powerful plea for the prisoner, reviewing the instructions to the jury, canvassing evidence, ridiculing the state's star witness, and censuring Tom Campbell.

Wednesday morning Col. J. K. Hendricks opened for the prosecution. He defended the calling of Campbell into the case by saying that the work was too arduous for the commonwealth's attorney. He continued: "Dan Voorhees was often called from his native state, and the senior counsel for the defense has oftentimes gone out of Kentucky to appear in various cases."

Hendricks, when he mentioned Sims' reference to the star witnesses, said: "No man would get Sunday-school teachers if he wanted to form a conspiracy, and whenever they point a finger of scorn at Culton, Golden or Noaks that same finger must be turned on the defendant."

The speaker's arraignment of Powers was terrific, but the prisoner sat unmoved as Hendricks denounced him as a fiend incarnate, and referred to his old mother, who was at home sorrowing over the sins of such a son.

The jury was instructed by Judge Cantrell Tuesday afternoon. The court defined the meaning of the terms "conspiracy" and "accessory before the fact." He said if the jury find that Powers conspired with the others accused to bring about the death of Goebel that the penalty be fixed at hanging or a life term in the penitentiary.

The instructions further said that if Powers was found to have brought armed men to Frankfort and conspired to kill members of the legislature and that the plan had afterwards been changed, no change should be made in the penalty. Further, that if Powers had entered into a conspiracy with the accused and the time had not been fixed, the verdict should be guilty. He further instructed that the acts of one of the conspirators after the formation of the conspiracy were the acts and declarations of all. If Goebel was killed in pursuance of a conspiracy originated for some other purpose, the verdict was still to be guilty. He instructed that the testimony of no accomplice should be allowed unless corroborated and that every fact must be proved to the jury beyond a reasonable doubt.

The court stated that there would be a night session beginning at 6:30. The defense objected on the grounds of delicate health of the defendant, but the motion was overruled. The defense excepted to the instructions of the court.

Georgetown, Ky., Aug. 16.—Three speeches have been made in the Powers case and the fourth is under way. Judge J. C. Sims making the first address for the prisoner. He was followed by Col. J. K. Hendricks for the prosecution, who was followed by Judge George Denny for the defense. Victor F. Bradley is now speaking for the prosecution. He will be followed by W. C. Owens for the defense and B. B. Golden for the prosecution and J. H. Tinsley for the defense. Col. T. C. Campbell will speak Friday morning followed by ex-Gov. Brown and Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin will close Friday night or Saturday morning.

That is the plan now and the Yates case will be called and selection of jury begin Saturday.

The large majority of people in Georgetown still believe it will be a hung jury.

NARROW ESCAPE.

Gen. Wheeler Saves the Life of W. Jennings Bryan, Jr.—Nearly Fell From a Window.

Chicago, Aug. 15.—Gen. Joseph Wheeler, commander of the department of the lakes, saved the life of William Jennings Bryan, jr., the 12-year-old son of the democratic candidate for the presidency. The lad visited Gen. Wheeler, and the latter, after his first greeting, turned to his work, and allowed the youngster to amuse himself the best he could. Bryan found a loose chair castor and a big bundle of rubber bands. These he tied into a long string, and then securing the castor to the bottom went to a window and began bouncing the piece of iron up and down on the side-walk, 75 feet below. The general, engrossed with his labors, paid no attention to the boy, who gradually became so interested in his play that he leaned farther and farther out of the casement of the window.

"Fighting Joe" happened to glance up a few moments later and was horrified to see the lad hanging with his whole body over the sidewalk and only the toes of his shoes visible, clutching the angle of the window. He sat aghast for a moment. Then, rushing to the window, he pulled the lad in by his legs and landed him safely on the floor. Speaking of the occurrence afterward Gen. Wheeler acknowledged that young Bryan was within an inch of being dashed to death on the pavement below when he caught sight of him.

NO MORE LOCKSTEP.

The Feature of the Prison Discipline Is Abandoned at Sing Sing by the Prison Authorities.

New York, Aug. 14.—No more lockstep at Sing Sing prison. The officials of the greatest prison in the United States have declared against the prison walk. For a long time the question of abandoning it has been under consideration, and the recent hot weather turned the scales in favor of its discontinuance. Such a radical departure from prison tradition was not expected by the prisoners, who are greatly delighted.

The lockstep requires that each man march almost in the footsteps of the man in front, with the left hand on his shoulder. The men are wedged together as closely as they can walk. In warm weather this step is a source of great discomfort to the prisoners. The lockstep is also particularly repugnant to prisoners, because in no other way is their degradation brought home so forcibly to them.

The lockstep was omitted at Sing Sing Sunday for the first time. The prisoners were marched about in companies in double file.

QUICKSILVER.

It Is Feared the World's Production Will Prove Unequal to the Growing Demand for It.

Boston, Aug. 14.—Some fear is felt in the trade that the world's production of quicksilver is likely to prove unequal to the growing demand. The total supply in 1899 was about 95,000 flasks from Spain, Italy, Austria and California, the principal sources of supply. This was less than for quite a number of years with the exception of two. The production of the Cinnabar mines of California, the only large producers upon the American continent, has declined from 79,900 flasks in 1888 to only 23,100 in 1899. The principal mines of Spain and Austria, which have been producing for nearly 2,000 years, are the only producers of importance, except Russia produced 8,700 flasks last year, none of which came out of that country. Spain produced 39,340 flasks in 1899, and Austria only 15,000. Hope for future increased supplies of quicksilver comes from New South Wales, where Cinnabar ore is said to be plentiful, the English capitalists now turning in that direction with a view of testing the value of the ores.

FIFTY LIVES LOST.

A French Torpedo Boat Destroyer Sunk in a Collision With the Battleship Brannus.

Paris, Aug. 14.—During maneuvers of the French fleet off Cape Vincent a collision occurred between the first-class battleship Brennus, flying the flag of Vice Adm. Fournier, commander of the fleet, and the torpedo boat destroyer Framee.

The Framee sank immediately. The accident was due to the fact that the Framee turned to the right, when ordered to the left.

Details thus far received are meager, but only a small portion of the crew, consisting of four officers and 58 men, were saved. It is believed that no fewer than 50 were lost, and great anxiety is felt here.

The Framee, which was of 313 tons displacement, was a recent addition to the French navy.

MOTOR CAR HELD UP.

The Conductor Robbed of His Watch and Fifty Dollars, But Passengers Not Disturbed.

Omaha, Aug. 14.—Motor No. 7 of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Railway and Bridge Co. was held up and the conductor was robbed by two masked men about midnight at the Wabash crossing, near the corner of Sixth street and Thirteenth avenue, Council Bluffs.

As the motor stopped for the crossing two men rose from the darkness at the side of the track and boarded the car. One covered the conductor and the other the motorman. One of the robbers took from the conductor his gold watch and his cash, amounting to $50. As soon as they had finished their work the robbers jumped from the car and disappeared in the darkness. There were only a few passengers aboard, and they were not disturbed.

Death of a Noted Chess Player. New York, Aug. 14.—Announcements has just been made of the death Sunday at the Manhattan State Hospital, of this city, of William Steinitz, the chess player. The deceased was born in Prague, May 18, 1837. Since 1862 he had made chess playing his profession. In the great tournament at London in 1872 he gained the world's championship. In 1873, in Vienna, he won the emperor's prize of 2,000 guilders. His title of champion of the world he defended with great success against all comers until 1894, when he was defeated by Emanuel Lasker. Since then he seemed to be on the decline, and his mind began to fail.
